R. MARTIN

We, the members of the graduation class of February, 1943, dedicate this book to MISS DEAN, who has for many years been a guide for Northern students seeking knowledge of the Roman Classics . . . Her encouragement, co-operation, and patience have cultivated in us an understanding of the Latin language. . . . She is a fine teacher and a true friend to all of her students.

Mr. A. L. McGrath
Assistant Principal

To the Class of January, 1943:

I sincerely hope that your three years at Northern High school are crowded with pleasant memories and that the tasks imposed upon you by our teachers have not been too burdensome.

Now you will be fully occupied with the disagreeable business of war. May a speedy victory for Democracy return you to the pursuits of peace.

Sincerely yours,

J. E. Tanis

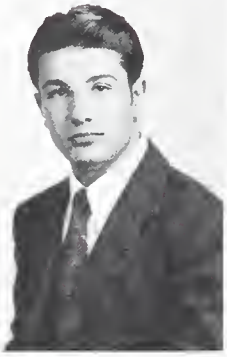
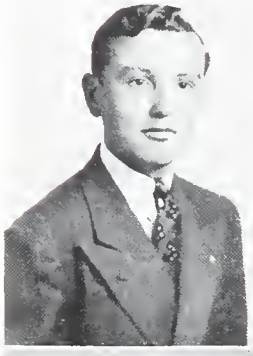
12A Officers



CAYETANO FERNANDEZ

The president of the January class, Cayetano Fernandez, has distinguished himself in several school activities. His dynamic personality and scholastic ability have been responsible for his acquiring offices both in the class and house.



PHIL VOVA

Phil Vova, vice president, is characterized by flaming red hair and energetic school spirit. Phil's geniality is just one of the many splendid attributes of his character.

LEE SPIEGEL

Lee Spiegel, class secretary, has been prominent in various activities. Charming and petite, she has impressed all with her personality. One of her contributions has been service rendered in the Northern Bond Drive.

MILTON RESNICK

Milton Resnick, 12A treasurer, has gained recognition through his participation in various sports. He has proved himself to be capable of fulfilling the duties of his office.

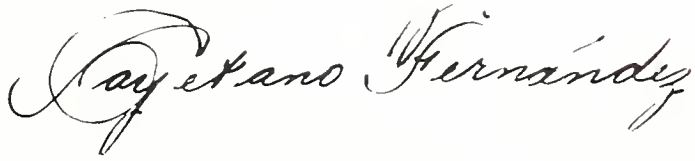
President's Message

Never has history remained stable for a great length of time. Not long ago education was considered a luxury, but today it is essential to any prominent citizen. We are fortunate to live in a country that offers no less than twelve years of free public education, three years of which are spent in high school. Our stay at Northern has prepared us to face life with a feeling of assurance. In our classes we have made friends with many people, learning to discriminate against no one because of race or creed. We have learned how to associate with others, and the value of time. Completing the high school requirements, we have placed ourselves above the average person, and it is our duty to improve and sustain the democratic form of government.

Today America is in conflict. War is playing a vital part in our lives. Our plans must be changed so as to benefit the future of the United States. Some will serve in the armed forces, while others will remain on the mainland. If you are one of those left behind, don't feel that you're worthless, because you are to be the forebears of the next generation. Many Americans have lost their lives on the battlefield, and thousands more will die so that we may again boast of freedom. As humans we're inclined to suffer, but remember that no price is too great for liberty. It is up to each individual to do his utmost.

Victory can be obtained through co-operation, for it is the key to success. Since actions speak louder than words, don't sit back and hope for the best, but get out there and make it the best.

Peace will come again and Americans will face another bitter enemy — depression. Armies cannot subdue it, but common sense and the intelligence of the masses will conquer this dreaded oppressor. Progress will be our theme, happiness our goal and knowledge our ammunition. Prepare yourselves, for only the most highly educated will find success and security in tomorrow's field.



CAYETANO FERNANDEZ,
President.

Under the able guidance of Miss Giddings, House 207 rightfully takes its place among the best at Northern.

We have not failed to give our loyal support towards making our school a model one. Many of the clubs and activities can boast representatives from 207.

Edith Cottler, veteran hockey player, was made captain of the team, and Sophie Epstein did her share. Prominent on the Light staff were Shirley Chapman, feature editor, and Sally Bourne.

In view of present-day conditions, 207 has also contributed its share towards victory. Eight-inch squares were knitted by the girls for the Junior Red Cross. These were made into afghans and sent to soldiers in army camps. Collecting cancelled postage stamps was another project much forwarded by our house. The stamps, which contained valuable dye, were packed between cargoes and shipped to London to support three beds in a children's hospital. Our patriotic spirit was also shown during the scrap drive.

Mr. Brown, the house council, and the students of 208 have given much to Northern's war effort. Two of their many contributions are junk for the scrap pile and large purchases of war bonds and stamps.

A great contribution is being made by former students of House 208. Many of them are either serving on the production line or battle fronts. In the Army Medical Corps are Sergeant Jack Ryan and Sergeant Irving Smarinsky of the class of January, 1940, and Private Leonard Vova, June, 1939. Lieutenant Dick Patten, June, 1938, is an instructor of bombardiers in the Army Air Corps, and Lieutenant Louis Ohliger of the same class is in the Navy Submarine Service.

There are former students serving with contingents of the Armed Forces in all parts of the world. Eugene Turner is in the Signal Corps in New York. Marine Charles Simmelman, class of January, 1940, has served in South America, and Private James Trax is in the Solomons.

Former 208 students now fighting on the front lines are too numerous to mention but, mentioned or not, they are all doing their best to hasten the day of victory.

We, the members of the graduating class from the House of Alice Freeman Palmer, will long remember and look back upon the days we have spent there under the guiding hand of Miss Jean B. Knight.

Our seniors have participated, as usual, in many of the student activities, among which are the Viking, the Light, the radio unit, sports, and the senior play. Regardless of this, we have maintained our high scholastic record. The scholastic shield is proudly exhibited in the house as a permanent fixture because of the many times we have won it. And we feel that during these times of national emergency and stress it is essential that we keep up the good record we have established.

We would like to add a word of thanks to Miss Knight and the faculty and give our best wishes to the undergraduates we are leaving behind.

The plaques and trophies that line the trophy shelf of House 224 are ample evidence of its athletic and scholastic merit. Under Mr. Vozka the John Marshall House has completed another successful semester. House 224 is well represented on all of Northern's athletic teams.

Rubin Iden was an average American boy who enlisted in the United States Marine Corps before the outbreak of the war. Captain Rubin Iden, U.S.M., was one of those in the Allied assault on the Solomon Islands; he was one of those who gave his life in the service of his country.

Another prominent alumnus of Northern, John Jacob Lamb lost his life while training in an Army fighting plane.

That these and thousands of other boys like them should not have died in vain, Sam Iden, K. Friedman, Virgil Henry, Bruce McLaughlin, Tom Metzler, Don Ney, Jay Olson, George Naff, William Lindsey, and Louis Ohliger, all from House 224, are producing the weapons that will arm these boys as they encounter the enemy; still others are regularly buying war bonds and stamps in school. These and other things 224 is doing for ultimate victory.

As the January, 1943, semester finally becomes a chapter in history, the unparalleled standards of scholarship, citizenship, and athletics established by the students of the Jane Addams House in the past have again been upheld.

The Jane Addams girls have entered enthusiastically into various school activities. In the field of sports we find Catherine Michaelis, Ward Ella Murphy, Erma Peterson, and Marian Parker.

The literary abilities of the girls of 327 are well represented in both the Viking and the Northern Light. An outstanding member of the House is its vice-president, Shirley McDonald, who is Editor-in-Chief of the Viking. The Viking also claims the following: Harriet McFadden, Mary Moore, and Bertha Niesenbaum.

Our representation in the Light consists of News Editors, Joanna Renehan and Margaret Lightner, and Sports Editor, Catherine Michaelis.

Members of House 327 included in the cast of Polly with a Past, the senior play, are Mary LaPorte, Naomi Mendelson, Janice Primrose, Lucille Pollack and Mary Lou Lehman.

The undergraduates extend their sincere wishes to the seniors for a happy and successful future, and, as the seniors bid farewell to Northern, they wish to express their appreciation to Miss Keller for the guidance and advice she has given them throughout their stay here.

Victory means much to those boys in the service, but it also means much to those in school, educating themselves to better the world of tomorrow. Although they aren't in the front line, they are doing their bit here — contributing to the scrap drive, donating to the Red Cross, building model airplanes for the Army and Navy, and honoring their friends who are on active duty.

House 308 is proud of its boys in the service, striving to defend America and allowing their younger brothers to profit by their stay at Northern as much as they have. Many more will be added to our list, and we wish every one of them luck and happiness.

Besides war activities, the Franklinites play a prominent role in school activities.

Mr. E. J. McRay, house principal, not only has the title of Civilian Defense Co-ordinator of the school but, because of his invaluable advice, has earned the name of a good counsellor.

Another group of "somber-faced" seniors, representing House 307, has bid adieu to their beloved school.

The House of Clara Barton has done a great deal in connection with the scrap drive. The members have been collecting tin cans, rubber, and any other articles containing material valuable to defense. They are also collecting spools which are to be used in the making of toy trains by the machine shop.

The House has been entirely redecorated by the decoration committee. Mary Alice Swoveland is the chairman, and Gloria Tafoya and Jessie Stover are on the committee.

Just as Clara Barton strove to preserve life in her great work with the American Red Cross, so shall we, graduates of this house, carry on in this time of economic strife the excellent work for which the name of this noted woman has stood.

Senior Play

"Polly with a Past" is the delightful comedy-romance by George Middleton and Guy Bolton which the Senior Class presented under the able guidance of Mrs. Gerrie. This is the second time that "Polly" has been given a workout on Northern's stage with Mrs. Gerrie as director.

The heroine, Polly, was portrayed with the grace and assurance of an accomplished actress by both Mary LaPorte and Audrey Geschelin. Polly is a maid who is persuaded by her employers, Harry (George Lieber, Mihran Joboulian) and Clay (Israel Miskin, Jak Habegger), to portray the part of a French woman in order to make Myrtle (Mary Lou Lehman, Sally Bourne) realize what a "good catch" Rex Van Zile (Roy Bocheff, Jack Leadbetter) is. Myrtle is too busy pointing out to others "the evils of their ways" to realize that Rex is in love with her. Rex's friends, Harry and Clay, think it is time she was brought to her senses.

The character roles were handled with equal finesse by Naomi Mendelson and Janice Primrose as Mrs. Davis, while Andrew Davenport and David Goodman take care of Stiles, the gardener's lines. Rex's mother, Mrs. Van Zile, was portrayed by Shirley Chapman and Helen Weinberg.

Anzo Paparelli and Donald Dittmar were in turn Commodore Bob; Prentice was enacted by Morton Gordon and Jerry Colten.

The maid, Parker, was played by Doreen Griffiths and Lucille Pollack, and let us not forget the Stranger that Cayetano Fernandez and George Amberg did so well in presenting.

The producing staff consisted of Shirley Stillwater, properties and prompting; Mildred Levin, prompting, and Bob Sachs, stage manager.

Herman Katz handled the scenery with the help of able assistants.

Library Staff

Our spacious, beautiful, and well-equipped library is one of the finest in the city. It has not only a large collection of fiction, textbooks, encyclopedias and dictionaries, but also newspapers and magazines that keep you well informed about current topics.

When speaking of the beauty and peacefulness of the library, one thinks of the Venetian blinds, and plants, and the exhibits that at one time or another are there. Moreover, he can't help being grateful for the library quiet when your house is too heavily crowded to permit concentration.

All these things, added to the expert guidance of Miss Lyon and her efficient staff, make studying and research work a pleasure.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

The Reserve Officers Training Corps has completed another successful semester under the tutelage of Sergeant Lawrence Luby. Intensive practice has been carried on in battalion drill, target practice, the manual of arms, military courtesy, and the correct wearing of army uniforms. The Northern unit has constituted during the present term the headquarters company for the entire city R.O.T.C. It expects to compete for city honors in the Annual Field Day next spring.

The Rifle Team competed in the Hearst Trophy Match and the Sixth Corps Area Match last year. In both matches the team made very high scores.

With a range of fifty feet at the target and with a bull's-eye about the size of a pencil eraser, it was necessary to be a good shot in order to make a score.

Lieutenant Shippen won the coveted position of captain.

Northern has an excellent chance for the coming year, with such a well-trained team.

The Whitmer Chapter of the Quill and Scroll has been in existence here at Northern for the past four years.

The Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for high school journalists. In order to become a member of this organization, a student must be in the upper portion of the class, have contributed and had printed at least fifty inches of material, and have outstanding journalistic ability.

This year's chapter is again composed of the writers for the Northern Light.

Delta Kappa

Delta Kappa, under the guidance of Miss Sterns, its new sponsor, again conducted the sale of defense bonds and stamps. Each member willingly gave up her study hour each day to stay at the second floor table and sell the bonds and stamps. The sales are speedily and efficiently handled.

Delta Kappa wishes to thank again the faculty and students for their splendid support, and also to express its appreciation to Miss Sterns, for her many helpful suggestions.

Eski-ettes

Among its many activities this term, the Eski-ette Club has held a splash party and tea for the purpose of initiating new members, a wiener roast, and a second initiation at Rose Anne Stella's house. Besides this, the girls helped to sell football tickets and Christmas cards, using the money earned for new athletic equipment.

The club, composed of girls interested in sports, was formed in 1939 for the advancement of athletics.

Besides Miss Delaney, one of its original sponsors, the club now has Mrs. Scollay, the new Physical Education sponsor.

French Club

This term Le Cercle Francais, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Brown, chose the subject of "France" as the center of its activities.

Our main goal was to learn about the country of France, its history, its customs and its geography. Accomplishing this through a series of "Information, please" programs, miscellaneous activities, reports and games, many items of interest were discovered by the club. French music and songs added to the enjoyment of the programs.

Hi-Y

The Northern chapter of this international young men's fellowship has been active here for twenty-three years and under its revised constitution has moved by leaps and bounds both in service and membership.

We take great pride in our club and in the heritage which has made it great, not only at Northern but throughout the world; that heritage based upon such principles as clean living, clean speech, clean athletics and clean scholarship.

We not only have a fine athletic and scholastic set-up, but our record as a Hi-Y club of Detroit has set innumerable examples to other chapters. We not only take an interest in the local activities but have sent members to both world and national conferences.

Under the guidance and help of our able sponsors, Mr. Watkins and Mr. Quilhot and because of our acceptance of the countless challenges of today, the Northern Hi-Y club will continue to surpass every expectation.

House of Representatives

Under the able and much-appreciated sponsorship of Mr. Henry Kolbe, the Northern House of Representatives completed a very successful forty-first session.

It was a very full semester for the House in the matter of activities. The members sold book covers to the students, added nine new names to the roster of the club, held house-parties, hayrides, athletic contests with Hi-Y and Country Day varsity squads and donated Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to the needy.

Keeping in tempo with these war times, the House of Representatives sends to all associate members and alumni in the fighting services gift packages whenever the club treasury permits.

At various meetings throughout the season, lectures were given by visiting speakers and members.

Thanks, again, to Mr. Kolbe.

"N" Club

The Northern "N" club is an organization composed of athletes in school who have distinguished themselves by receiving a letter in their respective sports. There are football players, basketball players, baseball players, golfers, tennis players, swimmers and track men represented. All have shown their ability in their own fields.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Katz as athletic sponsor and Mr. Kolbe as acting sponsor, the club managed to hold several meetings of interest to all the members. At these meetings, plans were made for raising money to be turned over to the athletic department to help out in the matter of equipment.

Social events were set on the calendar and although several members were unable to participate, those who did get out had a really good time. The problem of presenting another "crazy melodrama" was also considered, and more fun was present in the rehearsals than in actual performance.

In spite of the difficulties attendant upon holding meetings because of the conflict in the various practices for games, the club stayed intact throughout the entire semester.

Northern Girls

Under the sponsorship of Miss Leonard and Miss Halfert, the Northern Girls' club is cooperating with the war effort. They have been doing this by making kits for the soldiers and paper bags for the Red Cross.

The additional activities of the club include various educational trips and speakers, yearly Thanksgiving baskets for the needy families and ushering at commencement exercises.

Girl Reserves try to uphold their slogan which is, "To face life squarely" and the purpose, "To find and give the best."

Philodendroi Club

The Philodendroi club is open to those students who are interested in biology. To become a member it is not necessary to take biology, but one is required to have a scholastic rating of 80 per cent or more.

During our meetings on Thursday, we sometimes conduct biological quiz contests and on various occasions we plan trips.

Some of the interesting places we have visited are the Vernor plant, the Detroit News and the Zoo.

This semester a photography contest was held and most of the members of the club participated in this contest. We are proud to have for our sponsor, Mrs. Cone, who has helped to further our interest in biology.

Physics Club

The activities of the Physics club were greatly hampered this year due to the war. In spite of this handicap we succeeded in having an educational, yet entertaining time this year.

Mr. R. E. Warner gave us a talk on the instruments used in aviation, applicable to the principles of physics.

Mr. Rolfe gave an interesting talk on "Energy Transformation."

One of our members gave a demonstration in the mechanics and use of radio.

Dr. Warner, a member of the faculty at the University of Detroit, brought his equipment and gave us a talk on "Light."

Spanish Club

Outstanding among the clubs in Northern is the Spanish club. Founded in 1922, the Spanish club has been active ever since. The holding of an annual entertainment for the glory of Spain, a country that was once the most powerful in the world, has become a tradition.

Upon entering the second semester of Spanish, a student is eligible for membership in El Circulo Espanol, provided his marks are satisfactory.

Weekly activities consist of a cultural discussion of one of our Latin American neighbors, learning legends of old Spain, the singing of famous Spanish songs and the playing of games in Spanish.

The girls of Trideal-Euterpe feel very sad to have lost one of our four sponsors, Miss Voorheis, who has left Northern High school. The three remaining are Miss Teninga, Miss Clawson and Miss Elliott.

In connection with the war, all in Trideal-Euterpe will be able to hold their heads up and say that they helped to win the war. We have been tearing sheets into strips which are to be used as bandages. These bandages are being given to the hospitals.

On Saturday mornings, a large group of girls have been going down to the Children's Hospital to help the nurses. There are not enough nurses to run the hospital, so that the girls are appreciated a great deal.

As usual, this year the girls will give away Christmas baskets and Thanksgiving baskets as they have for years.

Girls' Hockey

One of the most interesting and exciting sports at Northern is girls' field hockey. The team is coached by Mrs. Scollay, who is thoroughly schooled in the fine points of the game. As usual, several positions on the team, which were left vacant by the graduates, had to be filled this fall either from last year's second team or by newcomers.

Of the many new players who came out, two made this first team, namely, Rae Schear, left full-back, and Ruth La Rue, right-wing. The remaining positions were filled by girls from the first and second teams of last season.

The complete first team line-up was as follows: Ruth La Rue, Catherine Michaelis, Sophie Epstein, Mary Moloney, Betty Scholar, Marion Parker, Edith Cottler, Erma Peterson, Catherine Marsh, Rae Schear and Ward Murphy.

At the beginning of the season, the team elected Edith Cottler and Betty Scholar co-captains and Ward Murphy manager. Under the coaching of Mrs. Scollay, the team had a successful year.

Boys' Swimming

Decidedly hampered this year by the lack of returning lettermen and reserves, the boys' swimming team launched a drive for new recruits. Along the way we picked up Bill "B" Meier, Don Kiltie, Chuck "Stepie" Stepanauckas, Jerry Bogan, Bob Dratt, Bill Austin, Nick Waskel, Wallis Podgers, Isadore Markowitz, Anzo Paparelli, Gordon Aiken, Walter Terry and Orland Anderson.

The returning lettermen, Jim Burgan and Jack Leadbetter, along with our reserve Captain of last year, Bob Catlin, were raring to go.

Leadbetter and Burgan were chosen Co-Captains, and the season opened with Northern swimming Northeastern here. The Eskies were victorious, winning by a score of 53 to 38.

The outstanding group this year has been our medley relay team, Burgan swimming backstroke, Meier breast and Leadbetter and Bogan alternately the crawl stroke.

The boys have had a great time this season and are sorry to hear that there will be no athletic teams next term.

Girls' Golf

The Northern Girls' Golf team, under the sponsorship of Miss Delaney, has been having a little difficulty in hitting its stride this year. Consisting of only five regular members, they have been hopelessly outnumbered at their meets, since an average of three is all that have attended.

Their first match with Central High ended with Central taking the honors. Hamtramck, however, proved less formidable and Northern was able to hold them to a tie. Highland Park conquered Northern easily because of the Dewey sisters who are experienced members of that team.

The girls have two more games scheduled for this fall with Chadsey and Redford and they hope to make a better showing.

The members of the team are Ruth Armstrong, Shirley Wilson, Lois Enge, June Batten and Barbara Cimini.

Ben Sager, having deposited his nickel in the pay telephone, heard the customary, "Number?"

"Say, lookit here, Dizzy," said Ben, "I want my chewing gum."

"Betty," asked the professor, "what are the three words used among high school students most frequently?"

"I don't know," replied Betty.

"Correct," said the professor.

Two fellows were admiring a statue. One said, "See that statue of the three little wise monkeys? They used to be called, 'See No Evil,' 'Hear No Evil' and 'Speak No Evil'."

The other fellow said, "Well, don't they call them that anymore?"

The first fellow replied, "Nowadays they're called, 'Pipe Down', 'Don't Look Now' and 'That Ain't the Way I Heard It'."

Humorous Definitions

Bore—One who insists upon talking about himself when you want to talk about yourself.

High School Lad—A boy who likes to be treated with kindness by his parents, but not with unremitting kindness.

Criminal—One who gets caught.

Fame—Chiefly a matter of dying at the right moment.

Friend—One who has the same enemies you have.

Girl—Always one of the these three things: Hungry, thirsty, or both.

Kiss—A noun, though often used as a conjunction; it is never declined; it is more common than proper and is used in the plural and agrees with all genders.

Love—The feeling that makes a woman make a man make a fool of himself.

Marriage—The only life sentence that is suspended by bad behavior.

Wedding—A funeral where you smell your own flowers.

Ten Commandments for High School Students

1. Thou shalt not be late for thy first hour class.
2. Thou shalt not be absent on examination days.
3. Thou shalt not have a ninth hour class.
4. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's homework.
5. Thou shalt not borrow thy neighbor's pencils.
6. Thou shalt not whistle or sing in the halls.
7. Thou shalt not sour thy teacher's disposition.
8. Thou shalt not deride school spirit if thou dost not possess it.
9. Thou shalt support thy school's athletic teams.
10. Thou shalt leave school knowing that "nauta," is masculine and that the verb "to be" never takes an object.

Miss Smith: "Jack, define the word 'puncture'."
Jack Leadbetter: "A puncture is a little hole in a tire, usually found at a great distance from a garage."

Ray Feldman: "Mother, the football coach gave me two positions on the team—end and guard."
Mrs. Feldman: "That's impossible—how can a small boy like you be both end and guard?"
Ray Feldman: "I sit on the end of the bench and guard the water bucket."
